

Victorian Construction Materials Laboratories Association Inc

Corporate Membership Information Sheet

Who should become corporate members?

All companies in Victoria and Tasmania who are involved in the employment of testing staff in the construction materials, geotechnical and in associated industries are encouraged to become corporate members of the Association.

The work of the Association in advertising the career of construction materials testing, supporting registered training organisations in training testers, lobbying specifiers and standards writers, keeping people up to date with changes in our industry and the other activities of the VCMLA requires corporate support to be successful.

What do we get for our annual fee?

As part of your corporate membership, your company will have access to:

- Two individual memberships as representative of your company who are able to participate in the Association's activities
- Regular news sheet.
- Update to date information on what is happening in our industry
- Support for the development of training courses
- Regular technical meetings
- Career advertising for new employment opportunities
- Lobbying to training organisations
- Representations to NATA, VicRoads and other peak groups and organisations
- Presentation of opinions to Standards Committees
- Advertisement of your membership of VCMLA
- Job advertisements on our web site
- Links to your business through the Association's web site

The two individuals who represent a company must be nominated by the company and they can only be changed by nomination of new members and removal of prior nominees as representatives.

The representatives will be able to vote at all general and annual general meetings on behalf of the company. They are also eligible to be members of the committee.
